

BRAND IDENTITY SPECIFICATION

Logo, Color & Trademark Elements

The definitive record of how The Rustic Garden mark is built, colored and typeset, written for posterity: so any designer, printer, lawyer or successor can reproduce it exactly, defend it, and know who approved it and when.

How this document flows: the artwork is measured, described in design language, broken into registrable elements, bound by usage terms, then approved by named people.

Introduction

Purpose. This specification fixes, in one place, the exact elements that make up The Rustic Garden brand mark: its name, logo construction, colors, lettering and supporting devices. It is meant to outlive any one designer, printer or website. It also identifies which elements are strong candidates for trademark and copyright protection, so the owner can decide what to file, in what form, and what to leave alone.

Scope. The brand is a single master identity, The Rustic Garden, with five descriptors beneath it: Events Garden, Coffee, Macadamia, Aquaculture and R&D. This document covers the master lockup supplied in the source PDF. It does not invent new logos; where a needed variant does not exist yet (for example, a one-color version), it is listed in section 8 as a file to be produced.

Method. Colors were sampled from a 300 dpi render of the supplied PDF and counted pixel by pixel. Typefaces were identified from the font names embedded in the PDF (Harlow Solid and Calisto MT Bold). Proportions were measured on the artwork. Items that could not be verified from the artwork alone, such as Pantone matches and press CMYK builds, are marked indicative and must be confirmed against a physical swatch or press proof.

What this document is not. It is not legal advice and it does not create a trademark right by itself. Section 7 is a working register for a trademark attorney to confirm; section 9 contains draft terms for a lawyer to adapt to the owner's jurisdiction.

Reading key

4 Boxes are elements or stages; arrows show flow or point a callout at the exact part of the artwork; numbered circles tie a callout to its row in the table beside or beneath it.

Source artwork record

Item	Recorded value
File	Rustic header_261016_064902.pdf (one page, supplied by the brand owner)
Page size	A4 landscape, 841.89 x 595.28 pt; the lockup occupies about 802 x 379 pt (ratio about 2.11 to 1)
Construction	Generated by PDFium; fonts embedded and subset (HarlowSolid, CalisMTBol); text is live type, not outlines
Measured from	A 300 dpi render of page 1 (3343 x 1581 px lockup crop); colors counted pixel by pixel

1 Brand name and architecture

One master name, five descriptors. The structure is a "branded house": a single mark carries every line of business.

Tier 2: descriptors (text only, not separate logos)

The five descriptors

Descriptor	Nature of the offer	Branding rule	Trademark note
Events Garden	Garden venue for hosted events and visits	Always set in the descriptor band, never alone as a logo	Descriptive of the service; expect a disclaimer or weak standalone rights
Coffee	Coffee product or cafe	Descriptor only	Generic for coffee goods; protect only as part of the composite mark
Macadamia	Nut growing or products	Descriptor only	Generic for nuts; same as above
Aquaculture	Fish or aquatic farming	Descriptor only	Generic for the field; protect via the master mark
R&D	Research and development arm	Descriptor only	Generic; relies on The Rustic Garden name and logo

Designer's recommendation. Keep the five descriptors as plain text beneath one strong mark. The words are ordinary and nobody can own them; the ownable value is the name The Rustic Garden together with its lettering, colors and layout. Building five sub-logos would multiply cost and dilute recognition. If a line of business later needs its own identity (for example Coffee retail), create it as a variant of this mark and add it to this document as a new version.

Writing the name in text

Correct

- ✓ The Rustic Garden (capital T, capital R, capital G)
- ✓ The Rustic Garden Coffee, when the line of business is named
- ✓ Short form in running text: "the Garden", only after the full name has appeared

Incorrect

- ✗ Rustic Garden, rustic garden, THE RUSTIC GARDEN in body copy
- ✗ TRG, RG or any other abbreviation
- ✗ Adding words inside the name, such as "The Rustic Garden & Cafe", unless approved

2 Primary logo: anatomy

The supplied lockup, broken into ten elements. Each number points to a row in the table below.

#	Element	Exact attributes (measured on supplied artwork)	Role in the mark
1	"The"	Calisto MT Bold, white #FFFFFF, upper left; modest size; cast shadow	Quiet article that introduces the name
2	"Rustic"	Harlow Solid Italic, yellow #FFF200, climbs about 15 degrees left to right; the large swash R overlaps the band	The hero word and the most ownable shape
3	"Garden"	Calisto MT Bold, white #FFFFFF, right-aligned, near-horizontal baseline; largest white element	Stabilizes the diagonal; carries the noun
4	Offset shadow	Hard-edged #231F20, down and to the right, about 0.7% of lockup width, on all three words	Adds depth; gives sign-painted warmth
5	Dashed rule	36 equal yellow dashes (dash about 1.5% of width, gap about 0.8%), right of the R swash, under "Garden"	Separates name from descriptors; reinforces rhythm
6	Green field	Solid #007F3D rectangle; about 85% of height; about 53% of total area	Container and brand background
7	Descriptor band	Solid #FFF200 strip; about 15% of height; full width	Holds the five offers
8	Square bullets	Five green #007F3D squares, one before each descriptor	Repetition and wayfinding
9	Descriptor text	Calisto MT Bold, black #231F20: Events Garden, Coffee, Macadamia, Aquaculture, R&D	The offers, in a fixed order
10	Dotted rules	Square black #231F20 dots along the top and bottom edges of the band	Ticket-strip or marquee edge

3 Color specification

Four flat colors. No gradients, no tints. Values sampled from the supplied artwork at 300 dpi.

MEASURED PROPORTION OF THE PRIMARY LOCKUP

* Indicative only. HEX, RGB, HSB and Lab were measured from the artwork and are reliable for screens. CMYK builds and Pantone matches are the designer's nearest equivalents; they must be proofed on the intended stock before being treated as final. Green is the dominant color (about half the area), yellow the signature accent, black the structure. Percentages are of the full lockup; about 1% is edge anti-aliasing. Tints, gradients and transparency are not part of the identity.

4 Color pairings and legibility

Contrast ratios computed with the WCAG 2.x relative-luminance formula. 4.5:1 is the minimum for body-size text; 3:1 for large text.

Aa Rustic	White on Green Approved: "The", "Garden", headings on green	5.12:1	Pass (AA)
Aa Rustic	Yellow on Green Approved for display lettering ("Rustic"); not for small text	4.38:1	Large text only
Aa Rustic	Black on Yellow Approved: descriptor band, small text on yellow	13.94:1	Pass (AAA)
Aa Rustic	Black on White Approved: all body text on white	16.30:1	Pass (AAA)
Aa Rustic	Green on White Approved: headings and links on white	5.12:1	Pass (AA)
Aa Rustic	Black on Green Decorative only (the shadow); never for text	3.18:1	Large only
Aa Rustic	Yellow on White Never: invisible. Yellow needs green or black behind it	1.17:1	Fail

Color hierarchy

Rule of thumb. The mark always sits on its own green field, so the logo itself never has to be placed on an arbitrary color. Around the logo, use white or very light neutrals. Where yellow is used outside the mark, put black or green text on it, never white. Green and yellow sit close together on the color wheel (an analogous pair), so the brand reads as fresh and harmonious; the black provides the hard edge that keeps it from looking soft.

5 Typography

Two typefaces do all the work: an expressive script for the hero word and a sturdy serif for everything else.

SCRIPT DISPLAY

Harlow Solid Italic

Used for: "Rustic" only

TEXT SERIF

Calisto MT Bold

Used for: "The", "Garden", descriptors

Element	Typeface and style	Case and color	Notes
"Rustic"	Harlow Solid Italic	Title case, yellow #FFF200	Rising about 15 degrees; hard shadow #231F20; never re-typeset, use the master artwork
"The"	Calisto MT Bold	Title case, white #FFFFFF	Smallest wordmark element; same shadow as the other words
"Garden"	Calisto MT Bold	Title case, white #FFFFFF	Right-aligned; baseline parallel to the band
Descriptors	Calisto MT Bold	Title case, black #231F20	Fixed order: Events Garden, Coffee, Macadamia, Aquaculture, R&D
Fallback (documents only)	Georgia Bold, or Cambria Bold	As above	For web and office files where Calisto MT is not installed; never inside the logo

Licensing and ownership caution

1. Check the font license. Harlow Solid and Calisto MT are commercial Monotype typefaces, commonly bundled with Microsoft Office. Confirm in writing that the license allows their use in a logo and in artwork that will be reproduced and registered, and that outlining the lettering is permitted.

2. A stock font is a weak thing to own. The owner can claim the arrangement, colors and shadow, but not the typeface itself, and a competitor can lawfully set other words in the same font. Recommendation: have a designer lightly customize "Rustic" (joined strokes, a redrawn swash R, adjusted terminals). That turns borrowed lettering into original artwork the owner can protect more firmly.

6 Descriptive framework and appraisal

The mark described through lenses taught in design schools, then scored. Judgments are the designer's, not consumer-tested.

Lens (source)	What the logo does	Design vocabulary
Gestalt (common region, continuity, proximity)	The green field binds every part into one rectangle; the dashes lead the eye from the R swash to "Garden"; descriptors group by proximity.	Figure-ground, closure, common region
Visual hierarchy	Order of reading: "Rustic" (largest, brightest) then "Garden" then "The" then descriptors.	Dominance, scale contrast, focal point
Typographic voice (script against serif)	A flared, brush-like italic script paired with a bold old-style serif: personality set against credibility.	Classification contrast, weight, x-height, swash
Color theory (Itten contrasts)	Analogous green and yellow with strong light-dark contrast; black adds a neutral edge. Green connotes growth, yellow sun and cheer.	Hue and value contrast, analogous harmony, warm/cool
Depth	A hard, offset shadow lifts every word off the field and recalls screen-printed or hand-painted signs.	Drop shadow, relief, sign-painter vernacular
Rhythm and pattern	Dashes, dots and squares repeat at three scales, like a ticket strip or marquee.	Repetition, interval, modular unit
Balance and movement	A rising diagonal on the left is countered by right-aligned, horizontal "Garden".	Asymmetric balance, diagonal, counterweight
Semiotics (Peirce)	No pictorial icon. The name is the sign; green and yellow act as agricultural symbols; the casual script is an index of handmade, "rustic" character.	Icon, index, symbol, connotation
Brand personality (Aaker)	Sincerity: high (wholesome, down-to-earth). Excitement: medium (cheerful, spirited). Ruggedness: medium. Sophistication: low.	Personality dimensions

Scorecard (1 = weak, 5 = strong)

Distinctive	4	Script plus color combination is unusual in the category
Memorable	4	One bold word, a swash, and a vivid pairing
Legible	4	"Garden" is excellent; small descriptors need size discipline
Scalable	2	Many fine parts; fails below roughly 60 mm wide
Versatile	2	Only one full-color version exists today
Appropriate	5	Fits garden, coffee and nut offers well
Ownable	3	Stock fonts and ordinary words limit exclusivity

Strengths

Ownable color pairing, a memorable swash R, a self-contained green rectangle that works on any background.

Risks

Detail loss at small sizes, shadow and dotted edges clog in low-quality print, no one-color or reversed version yet.

Opportunities

Develop the swash R as a standalone icon and favicon; customize the lettering to strengthen ownership.

7 Trademark and IP register

The exact elements that can be claimed, ranked by strength. A working register for the owner's trademark attorney to confirm, not legal advice.

ID	Element and draft description	Type	Preliminary strength	Recommended action
TM-1	THE RUSTIC GARDEN, words only, standard characters	Word mark	Suggestive to descriptive, depending on class; weakest on its own for garden, cafe and events	File alongside TM-3; expect office scrutiny of "rustic" and "garden"
TM-2	"Rustic" in Harlow Solid Italic, yellow, rising about 15 degrees, black offset shadow	Stylized word	Moderate. The arrangement is protectable; the stock typeface is not	Customize the lettering first (section 5), then file
TM-3	Primary lockup: all ten elements of section 2 as one composite	Composite logo	Strongest candidate	File as the principal logo mark; lead application
TM-4	Color claim: green #007F3D, yellow #FFF200, black #231F20, white, used together as in the lockup	Color-claimed mark	Weak until the public links the colors to the brand	Choose with counsel: black-and-white filing is broader, color filing is narrower
TM-5	Descriptor band: yellow strip, dotted black edges, green square bullets	Trade dress / layout	Supporting only; not distinctive alone	Do not file separately; keep identical in all uses
TM-6	Swash R monogram (not yet a standalone mark)	Potential secondary mark	Promising shape, but unused	Design a clean version, use it, then file
CR-1	Copyright in the logo artwork	Artistic work	Arises automatically in most countries, if the owner holds the rights	Obtain a signed written assignment from the designer (section 10)
CR-2	Font software (Harlow Solid, Calisto MT)	Third-party license	Not owned by the brand owner	Confirm license terms (section 5)
DM-1	Names: matching domains and social handles	Digital identifiers	Practical, not a registered right	Register consistent names now

Use of symbols. Use TM beside an unregistered mark. Use the registered symbol only after registration in that country. Using it earlier can mislead and, in some places, is an offence.

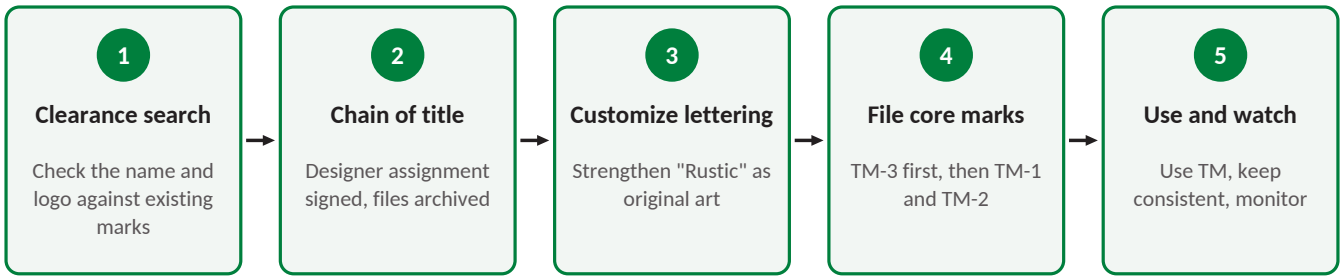

7 Classes and filing path

Candidate Nice Classification classes, matched to each descriptor. Confirm class headings and exact wording locally.

Class	Draft coverage	Descriptor	Note
43	Providing food and drink; cafe and catering services	Events Garden, Coffee	Core class if the garden runs a cafe or hosts catered events
41	Organizing events; garden and entertainment services	Events Garden	Confirm whether garden visits and venue hire fall here locally
30	Coffee and coffee-based goods	Coffee	Goods, only if the brand sells coffee as a product
31	Raw agricultural goods; macadamia nuts in shell; live fish	Macadamia, Aquaculture	Unprocessed produce and live animals
29	Prepared or processed nuts; fish products	Macadamia, Aquaculture	Roasted, flavored or packaged goods
44	Agriculture and horticulture services (confirm for aquaculture)	Macadamia, Aquaculture	Check local classification of farming services
42	Scientific research and development services	R&D	Only if research is offered to others
35	Retail and wholesale of the above (optional)	All	Add if a shop or online store trades under the mark

Class selection should follow real or genuinely intended use. Broad, speculative lists can be challenged and add cost.

Recommended filing path

Intellectual property you should assume you do not yet hold. The words "Rustic" and "Garden" are everyday words and cannot be owned alone. Nothing here has been searched against existing registers. Do not spend on signage, packaging or print runs at scale until step 1 is done; a conflict discovered later is far more expensive than a search now.

8 Construction, clear space and master files

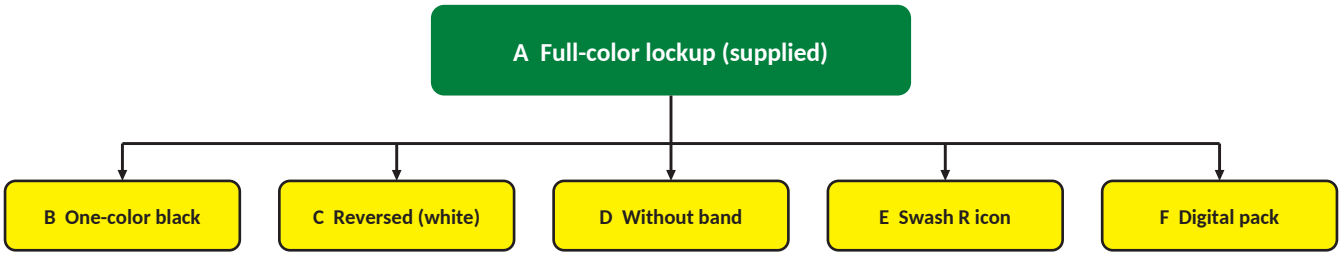

Unit X equals the height of the yellow descriptor band, about 15% of the lockup height.

Clear space. Keep at least X of empty space on all four sides. No text, edges or other graphics may enter this zone.

Use	Full lockup (with descriptors)	Reduced lockup (no band, to be produced)
Print minimum width	60 mm	30 mm
Screen minimum width	240 px	120 px
Below minimum	Switch to reduced lockup	Use the swash R icon (to be designed)

Artwork master list

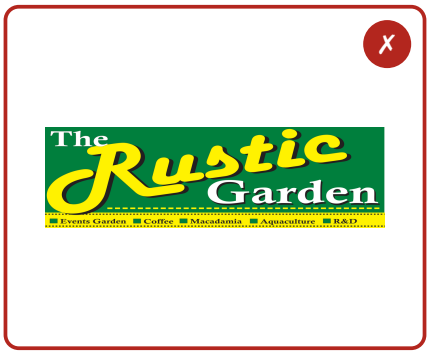

File	Status	Specification
A Full-color lockup	Supplied (PDF)	Convert all text to outlines; archive native vector master (.ai or .svg) and a flattened PDF
B One-color black	To produce	100% black; drop the shadow or keep it as solid outline; for fax, stamps, newsprint
C Reversed white	To produce	White artwork for dark or photographic grounds; define shadow behavior
D Reduced lockup	To produce	Name only, redrawn so the swash R does not depend on the band; for small sizes
E Swash R icon	To design	Optional secondary mark; favicon and social avatar; file only after use
F Digital pack	To produce	SVG, PNG at 1x and 2x, favicon 32, 180 and 512 px; sRGB values from section 3

9 Correct and incorrect use

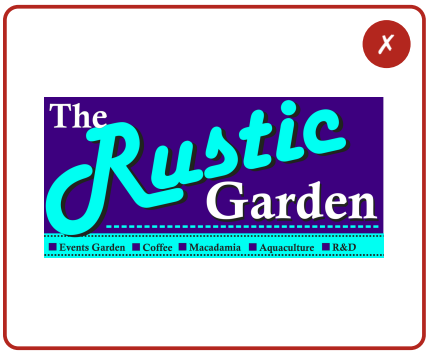

The lockup is a single artwork. Reproduce it, never rebuild or alter it.

Use the supplied master artwork at proportional size, with clear space.

Do not stretch or squash.

Do not recolor or swap the palette.

Do not rotate or tilt the lockup.

Do not crop any part of the lockup.

Do not crowd it: no text or graphics inside the clear space.

Further rules

- Never redraw or retype the lettering; always place the supplied master file.
- Keep every proportion: the shadow, dashes, dots and bullets must stay in their original positions and sizes.
- Keep the four colors exact; no tints, gradients, glows, bevels, outlines or transparency.
- Place the mark on white or a very light neutral; its green field carries its own contrast.
- Do not combine with other logos inside the lockup, and do not use any part of it as a pattern or texture without approval.

9 Terms of use

Draft terms binding anyone who reproduces the mark. A lawyer should adapt the wording to the owner's jurisdiction before it is relied on.

1 Definitions	"Brand" means the name The Rustic Garden, the primary lockup, and every element listed in sections 2 and 7 of this specification. "Owner" means [OWNER LEGAL NAME]. "User" means anyone reproducing the Brand.
2 Ownership	All rights, title and goodwill in the Brand belong to the Owner. Nothing here transfers ownership. Any use by a User benefits the Owner.
3 Permission to use	Users may reproduce the Brand only with the Owner's written permission, only as shown in this specification, and only for the purpose approved.
4 Required form	Use the supplied master artwork. Respect color, proportion, clear space and minimum size (sections 3, 4 and 8).
5 Prohibited	No alteration, recoloring, redrawing, animation, cropping, extraction of parts, or combination with other marks. No use that suggests endorsement, affiliation or quality the Owner has not approved.
6 Similar marks	Users shall not adopt, apply to register or use any name, logo, domain or handle confusingly similar to the Brand.
7 Quality control	The Owner may inspect samples at any time and may require correction or withdrawal of non-conforming material at the User's cost.
8 Protection	Users shall notify the Owner of suspected infringement and shall not take action in the Owner's name without consent.
9 Third-party elements	Use of the lettering depends on third-party font licenses. The Owner gives no warranty regarding those licenses beyond those it holds.
10 Changes	The Owner may amend this specification by issuing a new signed version. The latest signed version prevails.
11 Governing law	This document is governed by the law of [JURISDICTION], and disputes go to its courts, unless a separate written agreement says otherwise.
12 No warranty	The specification is provided as a design and administrative record. It is not legal advice and does not itself create or guarantee any registered right.

10 Approval and sign-off

This specification takes effect only when signed below. Until then it remains a draft.

Draft v0.9 → Owner review → IP counsel clearance → Designer assignment → Approve and lock v1.0

Statement of acceptance

By signing, each signatory confirms that they have reviewed this specification, that the logo, colors and lettering described are the intended brand identity, and that they accept the terms in section 9. The designer further confirms that the artwork is original or properly licensed and, where the owner requires it, assigns all copyright in it to the Owner under a separate written assignment referenced here.
